

Horses in the news

CHAPEL AMBLE

The 15-year-old four-star mare, who was 21st at Badminton in 2010 with Nick Gauntlett and completed Burghley last year with Jules Stiller, was put down at Jules' Headley Stud on 11 October following a suspected aneurism.

CORNET OBOLENSKY

The Clinton stallion, ridden to huge success by German showjumper Marco Kutscher, has retired to stud. The 13-year-old won everything from grands prix to team gold at the European Championships in 2011. His offspring are already competing at the highest level.

OVER TO YOU

The multi medal-winning eventer went for a "jolly" to Oasby (report, page 26) with Jeanette Brakewell, working in the dressage warm-up — with the odd buck — while two of the rider's students competed. "It's hard to believe he's 24," said Jeanette.

TIARA

Adeline Cornelissen had to improvise at the Assen 3* show last weekend when the wrong music was played for her small tour freestyle on the Jazz daughter. "I had to improvise everything!" said Adeline on Twitter. However, the pair still managed a plus-70% score.

SANDRO BOY

This 11-year-old Sandro Hit son won both the grand prix and the kur at the Kaposvár World Cup event in Hungary. With Australian Lyndal Oatley — with whom he scored 69.377% in the grand prix at London 2012 — he posted new Australian international records, scoring 72.277% and 76.525%.

